

Oak Curriculum - Term 1 Sep 2024

We are Authors:

How can we use inference, empathy and understanding to offer advice to a character?

Y6 will be delving into a class book and discovering what motivates a character to act in a certain way. We will be linking our book study to the time period in which the book is set: WW2. We will also be learning about what life was like for Britons during 1939-1945.

We are Scientists:

How can we stretch our brains?

In our Science unit, we will be Neuroscientists! We will be studying different parts of the human brain and learning about what each part can help us do and how we can strengthen our brain connections through learning. We will be linking our new learning about our brains to our mindset towards new challenges.

We are Geographers:

What constitutes a county or a capital city in the United Kingdom?

In our first Geography unit of the year, we will be using Geography resources and Geography skills to understand how the UK is separated into regions known as countries, counties and cities and what the differences between them are.

We are Designers

How can we use the design process to produce a unique product?

Oak class will enjoy designing their own bread roll by trying different flavourings, shapes and techniques before making a delicious savoury treat! We will use all of the design skills such as exploring, designing, making and evaluating,

Maths

Our primary focus for the first few weeks will be on understanding place value and the value of digits in very large numbers including decimals. We will be using lots of reasoning and talk to understand how to read and write numbers up to 10 million.

Later in the term we will move on to challenging addition and subtraction problems.

Key Information

Mrs Hine will be teaching Oak class on Monday afternoons and Mrs Mcsloy will be teaching Oak class on Thursday afternoons.

PE will be delivered by Fortius on Thursday afternoons and by Miss Harris on Tuesdays.

We will be spending time with our new buddies in week 1 and finding out about some new roles up for grabs!